

移動する (Idō suru) with Nagaoka University of Technology

Apr 28, 2015

The Faculty of Engineering of Mondragon University has joined the Global University Project, led by Nagaoka University of Technology (NUT). This project, financed by the Japanese Government, promotes the creation of a net of Technological Parks around the World in locations where the Japanese companies have a strong presence (Mexico, Vietnam, Thailand, Malaysia ...). The local collaboration includes universities and SMEs, student exchanges and internship in company.

A new visit from a NUT delegation headed by its President, Prof. Koichi Niihara, has pushed concrete areas of relation and new initiatives, among them, collaboration in water recycling and Materials Science. Moreover, exchange of students between both universities will start next academic course, 2015-16, including internship in company.
