

The "maldan gora" photograph (uphill) winner of the 16th edition of our contest.

Jun 19, 2017

Markel Bazanbide has won the 16th edition of our photography contest. A total of 14 people participated with 31 photos submitted.

The theme of this edition was "physical activity and emotions" and we have seen very good jobs.

These are the reasons why the jury chose this work:

"It is a photo that gives a lot of information" and "the composition is thought". As for the technical aspect has explained that has used "contrapunal angulation." That is, "you see a bunch of cyclists and next to the cheering fans." In addition, "the diagonal lines that form the spectators give dynamism to the image" and "that the image is colorful and cheerful" has also valued the jury. On the other hand, has very well reflected the theme of this issue "physical activity and emotions." "The effort of the cyclists is clear and the spectators fill with emotion the photo". They wanted to end the argument with a question "what would cycling be without people's encouragement?"

The winner, besides taking the prize of € 100 you will see his photo in our calendar of 2017/18.

From the sports service thank you to all your participation and congratulations to Markel Bazanbide.
