

Mondragon Unibertsitatea and IK4-IKERLAN sign and collaboration Agreement

Jan 30, 2012

The agreement aims to promote joint research long term between the two institutions through a framework of stable collaboration in the development of IK4 – IKERLAN doctoral thesis at University of Mondragon.

This agreement reinforces the collaborative approach taken to date which already 6 dissertations have been defended and other 12 are in progress.

The 2015 Science, Technology and Innovation Plan (PCTI 2015) notes as one of the objectives strengthen high-level training, increasing the number of Doctors, and proposes to generate more than 50% Doctors that nowadays.

Currently, collaboration in R&D with IK4-IKERLAN mainly focuses on fields of communications and power electronics, although the thesis development agreement covers other areas such as acoustics and vibration, information systems, electricity, high machining performance, surface technologies,...

