

Erasmus-exchange encounter 2013

Mar 20, 2013

With the aim of integrating exchange students that arrived during the spring semester at Mondragon University, Faculty of Engineering to continue with their studies and create contact among these students and those ones selected to do mobility next academic year, on 14th March it took place the Erasmus-Exchange Encounter, where they had the opportunity to exchange living experiences and talk about their home universities and countries.

During this meeting, students participated in funny and comfortable group dynamics in order to start knowing each other. This way, talking about their home countries, interests and thank to the exercises, they got to get closer. At the end, and during the cocktail they had, the students could talk in a familiar climate, while having some Pintxo (small Basque food) together.
