

The Erasmus+ students for the international Spring Programme have arrived

Feb 17, 2015

The Erasmus+ students for the international Spring Programme have arrived at the Faculty of Humanities and Education. In the second semester in total there are 18 students coming from abroad at the Faculty; 16 of them (pictured) will do the Education Programme (Teacher Education International Programme Spring) and the remaining two the Communication one (Media and Communication International Programme).

The student have come from universities in Belgium, Hungary, Poland, the Netherlands and Lithuania. This academic year a total of 27 students from Erasmus+ have come to the Faculty of Humanities and Education, with nine of them taking part in the Autumn Programme.

Students from Erasmus+ Education Programme.